A good result has already followed The auper-dumping traffic, of which New York city has been made the victim, in the increased vigilance of the local officials and creased vigilance of the local officials and magistrates, particularly the police justices, in guarding against a continuance of the impositions.

As a rule, paupers shipped to this city and turned loose in the atreets find their way specifly into the police courts. They want to be committed to the worknowse, the Charity hospital or some other institution which affords food and shelter, and are shrewd enough to stick to the story that they are enough to stick to the story that they are residents of the city.

When he got down in the interpolation in the street the two Millers attacked him.

One of them, the biggest of the two, was a rule with a jackning. The large blade had been ground down to a point and was as sharp as a razor.

The fellow stabbed Prentice in the left breat, near the heart, and also cut him on top of the bead. Frontice fought his two assailants and they had a desperate struggle in the dark.

Police justices have scores of such applications daily. Formerly the justices have usually been disposed to lentency, and inquiries in regard to the previous record of the appliants have not been pushed very vigorously. Since THE EVENING WORLD has opened the eyes of the public to the extent of the pauper shipping trade the magistrates have teen more cautious. Every application for assistance is closely investigated, and in several

An litustration was afferded at the Tombs vesteriary. An old man who gave his name as third, Million was ricked up in klizabeth street half-starved and nearly frozen to duafa. He was taken before Justice Mc-Mahan, whose suspictions were immediately arcused by the o'vident artempts of the prisoner to conceal something in regard to his past life.

prisoner to conceal something in regard to his past life.

On a close examination the fact came out that Wilson came originally from Binghamien, and that for ten months he had been in the Albany poorhouse. He then said that Nov. I first he, with five others, had been ragen from that historical and send down to New York on the Troy boat and turned adrift here.

Their fares were paid for them and they were accompanied to this city by an emwere accompanied to this city by an eni-proyee of the poor h usa.

Alillon is still in the Tombs awaiting a further investigation and efforts will be made to ascertain who was responsible for this violation of the law. He is seventy-two years old sud so lee-ble that he is unable to care for himself.

Police Justice John J. Ryan said this morning to a reporter of The Eventso Worns:

"I think this is a movement in the right direction. We certainly do not want any other state's pauders here—we've penty of our own.

"These exposures will have the effect of causing magistrates to be especially careful about committing vagrants brought before them. So far as I are concerned, it has had this effect with me aiready. I not only question vagrants shoroughly, but also the officers who arraign them another there is any doubt about their eligibility to public support, I give them another chance."

Justice Voorhis, in the Harlem Court, said he had read "Int Eventual World's excuse and considered it one of the most opportune that had ever come to his attention.

"There is no doubt," said he, "that our city has been made the dumping ground of paupers and vagrants not only from Boston and the Last, but from other sections of the country as well.

"In view of The Eventual World's enterprise in bringing this giaring evil to the adin bringing this glaring evil to the a ion of the authorities and the publi prise in oringing this giaring evil to the actention of the wothorities and the public, bolloe justices, in my opinion, should exercise especial care to inquire into the character and condition of the cases of vagrancy or destruction brought before them. The cases should be investigated thoroughly by the Justices to the extent of the power vosted in them.

Police Justice Duffy said: "I am very cind to see that The Evensiae Worked has taken up this matter of the shipping of paupers to this city. It is an abuse that has gone on long enough and ought to be stopped.

"I not only suspect, but I know, that thousands of paupers are sent to this city every year by the poormanters in adjoining states and counties. New York City is the receptable for all the rag-ing and ref.se of svery year by the poormasters in adjoining states and counties. New York city is the receptable for all the rage ag and in fire of New Jersey. Massachusetts, thode Island and connecticut, and has been for years. "I have always tried hard to detect these impositors, but it is extremely difficult to prove that they are lying, although you may be morally sure of it.

"I have suspicious I always hold the person before me and turn him over to the Department of Charities and Correction.
"They do the best they can, I suppose, but still a great majority of them get into intitutions here and are well housed and fed for the Winter.

tutions here and are well housed and fed for the Winter.

The only remedy i can think of for this imposition would be to empower the Board of Charities and Correction to employ a sufficient force of detectives to investigate every case and keep on the look-out for these pauper shipments. There is a law against it, and if any person bringing paupers into the city should be arrested, as he ought to be, I would see that the penalty was enforced.

"It costs the city about 60 cents a day for each pauper," concluded Judge Duffy, "and I venture to say that three out of every five who apply in this manner have no claim whatever for support from this city."

The Governor declared some time ago that in the interest of economy he favored the consolidation of certain impartments and a reduction of the clerical lores in others, and his reported action is said by those near him to be in accordance with that policy.

Rumor has it that the Governor will remove Civil-Service Commissioner A. C. Eustace and superintendent of Prisons Austin Lattrop, both Hill men. Robert P. Bush, Speaker of the Assembly, who charges his defeat for re-election to Mr. Eustace, is said to be slated for Col. Laturop's successor.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear on the Governor not to make changes or reductions in office, because all the State patronage will be needed by the machine if the Federal patronage fails.
